

Doctoral Seminar in Finance

Fall/Winter 2023/2024

University of Konstanz

We would like to invite all Finance PhD-students to participate in the (internal) doctoral seminar on Friday, January 19, 2024.

09:00 - 16:45h

We will start at 9:00 a.m. in H304.

You can either participate in the seminar as an active presenter (with or without grade, at your choice) or as an (active) auditor.

If you wish to present a research paper, you should register to the seminar by sending an email to office.corporate-finance@uni-konstanz.de no later than December 20, 2023 and indicating the title of your paper and whether you want your presentation (including your discussion) to be graded or not.

If you wish to present a paper, you need to send in a complete paper to office.corporate-finance@uni-konstanz.de no later than January 10, 2024. Within a few days, a paper of a fellow student will be assigned to you for discussion.

Please hand in your presentation slides and your discussion slides to office.corporate-finance@uni-konstanz.de no later than January 12, 2024.

In the plenary, you have 30 minutes to present your research paper and 10 minutes to discuss the paper of a fellow student assigned to you. The discussion should include a brief summary of the paper, a list of positive and negative aspects, and suggestions for improvements.

Again, all finance PhD students are asked to attend the seminar either as presenters or as auditors (also from the latter participation to the plenary discussions in expected).

We are looking forward to seeing you at the seminar,

M. Fischer, J. Jackwerth and A. Kind