

Job as Tutor in International Bank Strategy - Winter Term 2018/2019

The Institute of Finance at the University of Konstanz is currently looking for a Tutor for the International Bank Strategy (BA. course in Economics) to be hold in the winter semester term (WS2018/2019). This is a great opportunity for those who are interested in practical and quantitative aspects in banking, gaining experience in teaching, and being fully in charge of a tutorial.

The position involves holding the tutorials as well as preparing and correcting the final exams. In general the Tutor will be relatively flexible with the design of the tutorial. It is not essential that you took the course before. However, good English skills, previous teaching experience, and an interest in quantitative aspects in finance (e.g. Duration Gap Analysis, Value at Risk) are considered an asset. The Tutor will also be in contact with Prof. Uwe Stegemann from McKinsey, who holds the lecture in three blocks during the semester.

The time slot for the tutorials will be Monday 13:30 - 15:00. You are flexible with the starting date, but it should not be too late after the beginning of the winter semester 2018/2019.

The position will be filled as soon as a qualified candidate is found.

If you are interested, you can apply by sending an Email with 2-3 sentences of motivation and a CV attached to:

marco.menner@uni-konstanz.de